

Caring for Communities — with Compassion, Culture, and Connection

KWA provides compassionate, culturally-informed support to help individuals and families thrive. Through responsive, multilingual programs, we meet people where they are, bridging unmet needs with dignity and respect.

Social Services

Help with public benefits, citizenship, elder support, and domestic violence advocacy, delivered with cultural and language sensitivity.

Senior Meals

Hot, nutritious meals served in a welcoming community setting, featuring Korean, Cambodian, Vietnamese, and international menus.

Affordable Housing

Nearly 300 safe, stable, and affordable housing units for seniors, individuals with disabilities, and low-income individuals.

In-Home Care

Non-medical, in-home support to help seniors and people with disabilities live independently with dignity and comfort.

Community & Behavioral Health

Supportive, trauma-informed care to promote mental health and well-being. Services include counseling, case management, and connection to culturally responsive community resources.

Lifelong Learning Center

Community classes in language, arts, wellness, and digital literacy, empowering people of all ages to grow and connect.

Domestic Violence Assistance

24/7 confidential shelter and culturally sensitive advocacy for women and children escaping domestic violence.

Employment Opportunities

Join our mission as a caregiver or staff member. We offer training, benefits, and the chance to make a difference every day.

KWA offers services in 15 Western Washington counties and employs 1,700+ employees to serve diverse needs of more than 20,000 people each year.

Caring for Communities

Serving all of Western Washington since 1972

History of KWA

Kim Nam Hui, Korean wife of an American serviceman, formed KWA in 1972 after recognizing a need for other Korean wives on base to share meals and cultural connections. Today, the organization continues to grow, meeting the needs of over 20,000 people each year across the state of Washington.

Korean Women's Association (KWA) is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization.
